From Mary Hargreaves: When John William died, he left all his researches to his nephew Frank Swinglehurst (1896 - 1986). Frank was fired by the same enthusiasm for the past. John Swinglehurst, plumber, 9 Hargreaves Street, Nelson, died 1/10/1899.
Probate to John William Swinglehurst, plumber and Josiah Swinglehurst, druggist.

Ar: Josiah, having received his Education at Manchester Grammer School, qualified as a pharmacist. He was employed in a chemist shop in Mossley in the late 1880's and this is probably the period when he is said to have travelled from his home in Oldham (Up Steps Inn?).

During the time Josiah was employed in Mossley, he met and eventually married Marion Crossley. The Crossleys were in business adjacent to the Chemist shop. There was Mrs. Crossley's Emporium selling all kinds of haberdashery and drapery, next door in this town centre block was Crossleys Caterers and Confectioners. Marion and her elder sister Emily managed this latter department whilst their sisters, Annie and Martha had taken over the running of the dressmaking, haberdashery and drapery from their mother. The family's commercial ventures were completed by their father Charles Crossley - who had a Joinery and Cabinet Makers business at the rear of the premises. Mid-day would see Josiah lunching at the Crossley Restaurant and from then on the romance with Marion blossomed. The wedding took place in 1891 and the following year my father Arthur was born in Salford. Josiah had perhaps found a better position there or perhaps the Salford connection was brought about by his father moving the family home there.

In 1893 the business known as "Nowells Medical House" in Barrowford came up for sale. Josiah bought the business and thus the name of Swinglehurst became re-established in the village. The Chemist Shop, being also the Post and Telegraph Office, was a regular meeting place for the village folk and my grandmother used to tell' of her recollections of meeting people who had been in service with the previous Swinglehursts of Barrowford at Park Hill some 60 years before. John Holt, a Swinglehurst descendant, was still at Park Hill and became quite friendly with the new Swinglehursts. He regularly rode his horse through the village and exercised it in the meadow across the road. He explained that he had to ride the path from Park Hill to the mill to preserve his right of way on the old road.

Now settled in Barrowford, Josiah and Marion added to their family. Frank was born in 1896, Geoffrey in 1900 and Marion in 1902. They appear to have had a prosperous business, for they added to their property by purchasing half of the White Bear Inn (the part adjacent to the family house and shop) and also the cottages and shop on the south side as far as the Conservative Club. These were all let and I remember as a boy in the 1930's collecting rents at three of the cottages for my grandmother. In addition to the White Bear, there was behind it a derelict 17th Century building which was part of the original farm which once stood on this site. This was let to Mr.Stansfield, the plumber, who used it as a storeplace. Another link with the old days, which survived to the Second World War was a double seated privy. This used to fascinate us as young boys and we often sneaked round the back to these old buildings to sample the thrill of using the double seater.

Dy: The Airey connection is another interesting one. You have mentioned that Edward Swinglehurst mentions his sister Barbara Airey in his will. There is an AIREY connection in Mary Hargreaves family through Joseph Airey > Jane Airey who married William Swindlehurst > Joseph Airey Swindlehurst who married Ellen Hesketh > their son Joseph Francis Swindlehurst who married Winifred Ashcroft > their son John Swindlehurst who married Christine Adams and their children Guy and Kay. John, his family and father live on the Wirral in Cheshire. Could the husband of Barbara Airey be related to this lot?

Jg: None that I have been able to identify! They appear to have taken responsibility for Mary Jane see [Lord family 1861] until sometime between the 1901 and 1911 Censuses.

Mary Jane is recorded as living with Courtland and Margaret in 1901.

In 1911 she is in Lodgings (assuming I've found the right lass!)

I think that she married soon after that, but you wouldn't believe how many Mary Jane Swindlehursts got married in that 4 year period after the Census! Which one was her; was one her? I know not.

From Dy:

Found who I think is this Alice with father John Swindlehurst born Preston aged 38 years in 1881. He is listed as a Fireman in a cotton mill not a Policeman. Her mother was May J Swindlehurst aged 32 born Bolton as were Alice aged 9 and her sister Mary E aged 11. There does not appear to be another Alice with a father called John in the 1881 census.

She is not in the 1871 census so presumably born after the census date. In 1871 her parents are in Bolton with their daughter Mary E and John's mother-in-law Mary Taylor, a widow aged 64 born Wem in Shropshire.

In the 1891 census they are still in Bolton but it is just Alice aged 19 and her mother aged 42 and both are listed as paper sorters. This links with the fact that she married John William Harper who in the marriage you list for her is a paper maker. Another link is their address in 1891 is Court Street which is quoted on the marriage details you gave for both John and Alice.

In 1901 this couple are still in Bolton and John is a general carter born in Bolton. No occupation is listed for Alice. They have two children William 5 and Alice 1. Elizabeth Harper, sister of John aged 19 and a paper sorter in paper mill lives with them.

By 1911 Alice must have died as John's wife is now Maria born in Darcey Lever Lancashire c1875. His son William 15 and daughter Alice 11 are there as are three more children, James 5, May 3 and Hannah 1.

Haven't found a death reg for Alice.....yet!

after the death of wife Alice nee Swindlehurst he married Maria Alice Greenhalgh in 3rd quarter of 1909 which means that our Alice was probably the mother of the two other children I mentioned and the baby Hannah the child of his 2nd wife.
